WEBSITE WORKSHOPS

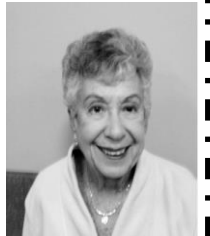

Throughout the fall, Carole Benson, our section's website editor, hosted a series of fully-subscribed workshops in her home to demonstrate the myriad components of our section's website and how easy it is to navigate. Highlights are the calendar that is updated daily and real-time news and photos of our section's many community service, education, enrichment, and advocacy activities.

This workshop taught us the breadth and depth of NCJW. Everything you want to know - all you need to do is click on a link. Carole explained everything clearly and easily. It is simple to learn, thanks to Carole's expertise.
Myrna Levine

Workshops will resume after the holiday season. Email Carole cbenson@nj.rr.com if you wish to be notified of the date of the next workshop. To be kept updated with our occasional email news posts, be sure to email the office with your current email address: office@ncjwbc.org. Also, please let us know if your email address has changed.

VOLUNTEER OF THE MONTH, NOVEMBER 2013, SABINA SICKLICK

I joined NCJW BCS 10 years ago, after losing my husband. I was retired and alone and felt I wanted to be involved in something worthwhile. I had heard NCJW was a "hands on" organization. A close friend, Marcia Levy, invited me to a meeting where I was warmly welcomed. Joining NCJW was a decision I am glad I made. Hospitality was my first committee. Marcia, knowing I liked to knit, asked me to chair a new Community Services project, the "Knit Wits." With the help of many members, we have made hats for Israeli soldiers, hats and scarves for Holley Center, Kilbarchan and the Drop-In Center, stuffed bears, lap robes for the Jewish Home at Rockleigh, and blankets for Katrina victims. I also collect toiletries for the Drop-In Shelter in Hackensack. I am thankful for all the friendships I have made over the years. Volunteering is a wonderful experience in helping others.

THANK YOU!

A sincere thank you to all our NCJW members for their lovely gifts for the HIPPIY children. Our little ones really appreciated your thoughtfulness and had a wonderful time at the annual holiday party.
Evalyn Brownstein & Betty Feuer
