

The summer is here, and the children of our community services are not thinking about school supplies, but, as we all know, the days fly by and the stores gear up for the next season. Staples will have their sales and so will the department stores.

NCJW BCS would like to give as much as possible to each school age child who is within our community services. Here is a list of items that are needed for “our” children:

- Backpacks
- Composition books
- USB Memory sticks
- Dictionary/Thesaurus
- Folders
- Erasers
- #2 pencils, colored pencils, crayons
- Target or Wal-Mart gift cards (a new outfit for their “first day “)
- Journals
- Washable markers
- Glue Sticks
- Pencil Cases
- Child safety scissors
- Calculators (simple ones from the Dollar Store)
- 1, 3, and 5 subject note books (no spiral notebooks)

These are just a few of the items that are needed. These school supplies will be distributed among the children in several of the community services that are listed on our website, www.ncjwbc.org.

You can bring the school supplies to the August 11 Board meeting
