Expanding and Protecting Reproductive Freedom in New Jersey

Zoom information to follow.

We have mourned the passing of Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg. Now we must protect her legacy.

The future access of abortion care in the hands of the Supreme Court is deeply uncertain. And for years, access to safe, legal abortion and other reproductive health care services have been under threat across the country.

On October 2, however, Governor Murphy, Senate Majority Leader Loretta Weinberg, Assemblywoman Valerie Vainieri Huttle and other legislative and advocacy partners announced the Reproductive Freedom Act. The comprehensive legislation will protect and expand everyone's ability to receive comprehensive reproductive health care, including birth control and pregnancy-related care, including abortion.
